

voyeur

virgin australia group of airlines

June 2011 issue 119

MEET THE NIGHT OWLS

Curing isolation by coworking

SEATTLE'S CITY STYLE

Beyond the teen spirit lies true sophistication

A scenic view of a Venetian canal, likely the Grand Canal, with historic buildings and boats. The water is blue, and the buildings are multi-story with red roofs and white facades. Several boats, including a large white ferry and a smaller boat, are visible on the water. The sky is a clear blue.

WINTER WISH LIST

EXPERTS REVEAL SURPRISING ESCAPES GUARANTEED TO BANISH THE WINTER BLUES

ALSO

Meet the brand-new Virgin Australia | Weird and wunderbar Germany | We take the new McLaren sports car for a spin | The Abrothos islands, Western Australia's best-kept secret

{style, digital, wheels, food & wine}

EXPLORE

*Capture a colourful moment in time at India's Holi festival, PAGE 22

*Get shirty with boldly patterned and perfectly cut men's shirts, PAGE 31

*Blitz travelling on two wheels with the cool e-motorbike, PAGE 39

Style news from around the world, delivered direct to your seat pocket.

PAGE 43

ISLAND OF PLENTY

South Australia's Kangaroo Island and Southern Ocean Lodge redefine gourmet luxury.

Food Safari

ISLAND OF PLENTY

Join the cook, the chef and other food lovers for a culinary adventure on Kangaroo Island.

South Australia's Kangaroo Island, best known for its wildlife, soaring cliffs, expansive beaches, lush forests and epic sand dunes, has come into its own as a food destination. The island's producers, who operate on a small, sustainable basis, include Kangaroo Island Olive Oil Company, South Rock Lamb and Island Pure sheep dairy. To celebrate the island's bounty, Southern Ocean Lodge is hosting a culinary adventure, KI Food Safari. The five-night trip involves cooking demonstrations, winery lunches and excursions to farms and vineyards. Also expect visits from local producers and food personalities, including Maggie Beer and Simon Bryant, who will conduct a Kangaroo Island-style The Cook and the Chef challenge. The KI Food Safari departs 27 August and costs $4,950 per person, twin share, staying at Southern Ocean Lodge and including return airfares from Adelaide, all excursions, tastings and a special KI Food Safari kit. Visit www.southernoceanlodge.com.au/foodsafari.asp.

